

Geazy develops and builds teams for product development needs of startups and midsize companies. Currently the teams support 4 US based startups (in Automobile, Solar EV, Legal Search), with dedicated teams of developers, quality and operations, with ability of rapid team expansion.

The smaller team and attractive benefits, provide rich experience for individual developers to work on all aspects of the project.

Situated in Chennai, India, Geazy has access to good software talent, from premier colleges around for freshers to experienced developers. Our hybrid model of working has found favor with the team and helps with retention.
